Break bread with us, and toast the season.

Celebrate the holidays while enjoying Chef Ned Bell's local, seasonal "Naramatian" cuisine. Groups of up to 12 can be accommodated in the main dining room, with special three-course, prix fixe holiday menus available with optional wine pairings. Or for a more exclusive experience, book one of our private dining spaces. Make your get-together even more special by adding on a private wine or cocktail experience before dinner.

 Note: maximum group size is subject to change. Private groups will be required to sign an agreement to adhere to strict Covid-19 protocols.*

Bundle up together, like two birds of a feather.

Come for dinner, and make it a sleepover when you book one of our 12 Mission-style guest rooms. Not only will your commute be reduced to a staircase, but you'll also get to ease into the next day with our farm-to-table Continental breakfast. Ask us about our holiday packages bringing together a stay in one of our Queen rooms, in-room sparkling wine, and dinner with wine pairings. Or get away for Christmas this year and come spend the holidays with us. We promise Santa will still find you.

Gift boxes, with something for now and something for later.

At Naramata Inn, we are lucky to be surrounded by some of the most talented artisans, producers and farmers in the region. Let us help you put a true Naramata experience under your tree this year with one of our gift boxes. Available at various price points starting at $175, they include goodies like our signature bread board, housemade jam, signed cookbook, Naramata wine, linen apron, and exclusive Chef and Sommelier dining experiences.

Gift cards, but with a little extra for you.

A Naramata Inn gift card is the gift that always fits, although after your recipient uses it, their pants might not. Valid for use against accommodation and dining at the Inn, gift cards are available in any denomination. But as our holiday gift to you, you'll get your own card for 10% of the total value of any gift cards over $500 bought in one transaction.
